Farley Printing recognized for “Supplier Excellence”

For the fourth consecutive year, Farley Printing Company, Inc. has been recognized for Supplier Excellence by Siemens Health Care Diagnostics.

Farley Printing Company handles a number of unique applications for Siemens Healthcare Diagnostics. When Siemens needed a local vendor to handle print projects currently being produced on the West Coast, Farley Printing Company added additional equipment and staff to meet that need.

Many of the jobs are produced in short turnarounds and require custom manufacturing processes. Commenting on the recognition, Joseph Farley, Jr. said “We believe it has been our ability to respond to the unique needs of Siemens that has allowed us the opportunity to expand the number of products we supply. We are extremely proud of this recognition and very thankful for the opportunity to be a continued supplier for Siemens.”
